CHILDREN AND NATURE

YOUTHFUL MEMBERS OF BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB DEVELOP PERCEPTION

It is significant of the interest that has been awakened in the children who attend the Bird and Flower club section of the Glendale Garden society that they are now writing their impressions and showing the true naturalist spirit in seeking to make permanent records of what they have seen. It may be interesting to read what one lady who does not desire to make her name public says of E. J. Brown, who wrote the interesting letter about the Vine St. Bird club, published in Thursday's issue of The Glendale Evening News. She says: "I am interested in this boy for he is small for his age. He has been vitally interested in this work and has improved in his manners since association with the other children in this study of Nature. Since receiving the book on Boy Scouts he has told me that his people say that if he makes good next year at school they will let him join that organization. The publication of his article is a great encouragement to him."

Here are some other letters that manifest the development of the perceptive faculty. This one is from Wilfred White, a boy of fourteen years. He is a new member of the club and one of the most enthusiastic. He writes:

"Since my first trip with the Bird and Flower club I have seen more birds and flowers than I ever saw before. I know it is because I have observed more. Around our house in the vines I saw so many humming birds. On the lawn across the road I saw a flock of blackbirds. They have been there most every day. They even came into our yard when we were on th porch. We went on an outing to Griffith Park where we saw some blue jays and many birds that I never saw before or can't remember. I noticed a butcher bird on a telephone wire and saw many squirrels and rabbits."

Eugene Kille, a little boy of eight years, is developing a remarkable faculty of observation. This new study has opened up a wonder world to him and has something new to tell every day. He writes:

"One day when we were going to one of the beaches I was looking out of the car window and saw a fish swimming through the water. In the afternoon when I was wading a little bit of a fish came up with a wave and I came nearly catching it. At one of the other beaches I saw a little turtle. It stuck out its head which made it look like a snake. When we went out on the pier a man caught a stingaree. They are as poisonous as snakes. They destroy oyster and clam beds.

"One Sunday when we were at Pasadena, in one of the parks, I saw three nests. One was in a palm tree. The other two were in a bamboo. I saw a humming bird, and mother got so close to it she could almost touch it. I had a horned toad for a little while. It was only about an inch long.

"Another day we went to the pigeon farm. Some of them had funny heads. There were little bits of ones in the nests. There were eggs, too. On the way out there we saw a pet fox. We saw also some doves, a bunch of goldfinches eating seeds, a blue jay and a towhee. Papa and I went out to the Los Angeles river one day. We saw four or five lizards, a snake and a goat lying on a stump of a tree."

Pretty good observation for a child of only eight years.

DEATH OF MR. BLANCHARD

Mr. Radford Blanchard, father of Mrs. Mary B. Woodruff of Tujunga (Littlelands) passed away at Mrs. Woodruff's home Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the age of 89 years, 5 months and 18 days. Mr. Blanchard was born in Vermont but had lived in California for eight years. He had resided with the Woodruff's at Littlelands for the past three years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors in Glendale. Interment will be at Forest Lawn.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Congregational church enjoyed a very pleasant social at the home of Miss Edith Wattanen, 240 S. Central, Thursday evening. There was an excellent attendance and the society deliberated on plans for the season. Refreshments were served and a candy pull and games were enjoyed.

TRAINED AS NURSES

WORK OF GLENDALE SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

Among the students who matriculated last week for the nurses' course at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital Training School were Mrs. Caroline Surch of San Diego, Miss Meta Roehr, Los Angeles; Miss Willetta Stanley, Hayward, Cal.; Miss Emily Armstrong, San Francisco; Miss Emma Phelps, Portland, Ore.; Miss Susie Cass, Rockford, Wash., and Miss Helen Wright of Ione, Wash. H. B. Wright, a brother of the last named, also registered for the complete course.

The curriculum provided by the local institution for the training of its missionary nurses is very comprehensive. There is a 3-year course for women and a 2-year course for men. Students at this Training School receive not alone the education afforded by the best training schools but, in addition, are taught various practical branches of Physiologic Therapeutics. That is, they are taught not alone how to assist in medical and surgical cases of every description but they learn also how to employ the natural curative agents such as light, heat, water, air, electricity.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital Training School for Missionary Nurses has had a modest but very successful career. It was chartered in 1906 under the laws of California and is under the jurisdiction of the Constituency of the Southern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists. The directing head of the school is Dr. Belle Wood-Comstock, who is ably assisted by Miss Lillian Santee, Superintendent of Nurses.

"Since the inception of our Training School," said Dr. Wood-Comstock today, "exactly 100 nurses have graduated from it. The training they receive here stands them in good stead, no matter what phase of work they take up, because it is essentially practical. The graduates of the school are scattered in various places. For instance, some have gone as missionaries to foreign countries, such as Africa, China, Porto Rico and the Philippines. Others are doing welfare and settlement work while others, still, have assumed the role of visiting nurses in large cities. Again, others are working among the mountaineers of the South. A number are to be found filling important positions in various sanitariums. A few are doing private nursing and others have homes of their own. But all are spreading the gospel of right living and so the circle of their influence ever is widening."

$4000 OIL STATION

One of the most unique as well as most beautiful oil stations in the State is the one just completed for Geo. Peters, Jr., at the corner of Colorado and Central avenue. The investment exceeds $4000, and the station is far different from any other in this city. The station will be known as the Mission Supply Station. The architectural design is of mission style finished in ivory with large archways to accommodate passing cars. The station is of unusual size and contains rest rooms for both women and men. Mr. Peters will keep all kinds of motor oils, greases, etc., has free air service and Union gasoline. For Saturday and Sunday he is making a special offer of a free can of grease with every 10 gallons of gas purchased. Mr. Peters is also busily engaged in putting in a pretty lawn and flowers around the place.

TRIOLS IN WASHINGTON

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lee D. Triol, formerly of Glendale, will be glad to hear from them. Mr. Triol writes to the News in remitting his subscription that they are living or rather camping in a little valley on part of what is known as Hidden ranch among the giant firs and cedars. Two creeks of ice cold water run through the ranch. The country is heavily wooded and green all the year. He says when the rains start he prefers California and is always glad to hear from Glendale. Mr. Triol's address is Chico, Wash.

KING OF GREECE ABDICATES THRONE

CONSTANTINE RESIGNS AND THE CROWN PRINCE IS REGENT IN HIS STEAD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—King Constantine of Greece abdicated the throne this morning. The king has been in very poor health for some time and was forced to undergo a surgical operation a few days ago. He is in a very precarious condition and has worried so much over conditions in his kingdom that he threw up the whole affair. The Crown prince has been appointed regent in King Constantine's place. As yet there is no indication as to whether the people intend to perpetuate the monarchy. There is talk of a republic. General Moschopoulos is rapidly carrying out the mobilization of the army. It is declared that revolution has broken out in several Greek cities and the troops have joined shouting against Constantine.

BAD SLIDE ON THE PANAMA CANAL

THOUSANDS OF TONS OF EARTH AND ROCK BLOCK WATERWAY AT CUCARACHA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1.—After all the enormous dredging operations which recently succeeded in clearing the Panama canal of the enormous amount of rock and stone deposited in the waterway by the slides of eleven months ago, further slides took place yesterday at Cucaracha, the scene of the worst slides in the canal. Thousands of tons of earth and stone slid off the mountainside and choked the canal. The dredges were set to work at once.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The French have advanced south of the Somme and expect soon to capture Peronne.

AUSTRIANS WITHDRAW TROOPS BEFORE VICTORIOUS MARCH OF KING FERDINAND'S MEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BUCHAREST, Sept. 1.—The Roumanians are advancing all along the 500-mile front in Transylvania. The Austrians are retiring in every direction. This is official news from the war office here. It is admitted in Vienna that the Austrians are retiring. It is explained, however, that the Austrians are merely narrowing their front in order to have a better chance to resist the attack of the Roumanians. The Roumanian army is enthusiastic and confident and has worsted the Austrians in the fighting that has taken place.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

LOT CLEANING REPORT—SEVENTH STREET PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST

The regular meeting of the trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall, Thursday evening, August 31, 1916. Present Trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; Mattison B. Jones, acting city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager public service department; Edw. M. Lynch, city engineer; Geo. Herald, city marshal; H. A. Lankford, fire marshal.

The board was called to order by the clerk, and on motion of Trustee Grist, Trustee Woodberry was appointed chairman pro tem. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The city manager handed in a report on lot cleaning, stating that the instructions of the trustees as embodied in Resolutions 909, 910, 913 and 914 had been carried out, a total of seven hundred and eighteen lots having been cleaned by the street department at a cost of $725.10, making the average cost per lot $1.05. The report was accompanied by a copy of notices published. After the reading of the report, an opportunity was given for protestants to be heard, none being present and no protests having been filed, the city manager presented a resolution for adoption as required by law.

On motion of Trustee Muhleman, Resolution Number 923, "A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale confirming the report of the city manager and ex-officio street superintendent of the cost of abating certain nuisances in the City of Glendale and directing a copy of said report to be turned over to the assessor and tax collector of the City of Glendale, and further directing said officers to add the amounts of the respective assessments to the next regular bills for taxes levied against the said respective lots and parcels of land," was taken up for reading.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the same upon being read was adopted by the following vote:

AYES—Grist, Jackson, Muhleman, Woodberry.

NOES—None.

ABSENT—Thompson.

The city manager made a report in regard to the complaint made by J. F. Chandler at the last meeting, referring to the refusal of the Southern California Gas company to furnish gas on Stanley avenue. The city manager reported that the matter had been taken up with Mr. Protheroe, representing the gas company, who had agreed to install service on Stanley avenue by way of the proposed Sycamore canyon road from Third street, providing an easement can be obtained for the laying of a gas main along the proposed road. He further stated that there would be no difficulty about obtaining this easement, as Mr. Chandler would secure the necessary signatures to it. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the report was received and ordered to be filed.

A communication was read from Mrs. D. J. Daub of 1571 Ivy street, complaining that the sidewalk fronting on her property on Pacific avenue between Ivy street and Broadway has four large cracks in it, which in her opinion need repairing. The city engineer stated that these cracks had been called to his attention and had been marked for repair, that the trouble was undoubtedly caused by the hot weather, and that the job in general is an excellent one. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter was referred to the city engineer.

A communication was read from Charles A. Rudel and others calling attention of the trustees to the fact that there is a right of way in the rear of their property in block "B" Glendale Valley View Tract for the purpose of erecting and maintaining telephone and electric light poles and wires; that the City of Glendale had placed poles of a large size upon this right of way. The petitioners claiming that the city authorities had promised that poles used by various telephone companies would be taken down and wires stretched on the new poles, only part of this work had been done, that part consisting of the stretching of the wires. The petitioners requested that the telephone company be required to remove all unnecessary poles. On motion of Trustee Grist, the communication was referred to the city manager and manager of public service department.

A communication was read from Shirley L. Holt calling attention to the requirements of the Torrens Land Title Law in regard to the city

PERMITS FOR MONTH

BUILDING FOR AUGUST IS ALMOST FOUR TIMES GREATER THAN SAME MONTH IN 1915

There is one item in the permits of the month of August that naturally puts it far ahead of August 1915. That is the brick block that is being built on Brand boulevard, next to the Peters block. That accounts for the sum of $14,000. But apart from that sum the permits of the month are still $10,000 in excess of the permits in August 1915. That is encouraging and bears out the fact of the steady growth of Glendale, which is destined to become quite a city in the future.

During the month of August 1916 there were 16 permits granted for electric work in the houses of the city and 33 permits for plumbing work. There were twenty-two permits for building and the total value of those buildings amounted to $34,324. The value of building in July, 1916, was $18,430 and in June $16,975. In August of 1915 the value of the buildings was only $9195.

Following are the permits:

R. B. Hammond, 208 N. Isabel street, is building a dwelling house at a cost of $2000.

C. W. Brett, 431 E. Second street, is remodeling and removing a dwelling at a cost of $250.

RILEY LYONS IS NOW OWNER JOHNSON & LYONS GROCERY

A deal was consummated Thursday of this week whereby Riley Lyons purchased the interests of E. D. Johnson in the Johnson & Lyons Grocery at 572 West Broadway, opposite city hall. Mr. Lyons is one of the best known and popular business men in Glendale, having been actively engaged in the grocery business of this city for over five years,—first of the firm of Carter & Lyons; Johnson & Lyons,—and now as the Riley Lyons Grocery. The above grocery enjoys an extremely large patronage and without doubt Mr. Lyons will so manage the business that it will show the same steady growth as it has the past five years. Mr. Johnson will remain at the store for a few days and will probably enter the building game, at which he was engaged prior to entering the grocery field.

Mr. and Mrs. Twitchell and little daughter of Chicago, started for home Wednesday, after a visit of several days with the families of A. B. Heacock and Mrs. M. A. Timmons.

BULGARIA'S SERIOUS PLIGHT

Bulgaria entered on the war, on the side of the Central Powers, with a light heart. To get Bulgaria's assistance Berlin promised everything that could be promised with any show of reason. Of course those promises were all contingent. The Central Powers had to win the war to implement their promises. Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria who had been a problem to all the courts of Europe from the outbreak of the war suddenly made up his mind that the kaiser was the winning card and declared for Germany and the Central powers.

With the careful calculation that has characterized the Bulgarian czar very little was done by the Bulgarian armies except to help to drive the Servians from their small country and to aid the power of Austria to capture little Montenegro. Bulgaria content with her achievements drew up her army close to the Greek frontier and watched for the next move that might better her fortunes. It was expected that Roumania would follow the suit of Bulgaria and join Germany and Austria and Turkey; but the emperor Ferdinand of Roumania was even more cautious. He would not make up his mind until he saw clearly which side would win. Convinced that the Allies had Germany at last on the downward path he suddenly swung his 600,000 men into line for the Allies and invaded Hungary. This is a severe blow to the Central Powers; though they are facing it, or rather Germany is facing it with undaunted courage.

The conduct of the Bulgars in joining the Central Powers against Russia and Britain is an example of what it means to have an alien monarch on the throne. In Bulgaria and in Greece the people's wishes have been completely ignored and the country ranged against its natural friends. In Gladstone's time and the time of the good czar Alexander of Russia, Britain and Russia saved Bulgaria from the Turks. The people of Bulgaria to this day have pictures of Alexander and Gladstone in their houses, and point to them as the saviors of the nation. The people were not anxious to go to war against the Russians and British; but they were compelled by the military autocracy.

Bulgaria is now in a very precarious position. She has Roumania at her back and the Allies at Saloniki in front of her and before many days are over she is likely to have Greece also ranged against her. This is so very serious that Bulgaria is now split up into two parties,—Czar Ferdinand who is still clinging to his ally, the kaiser and the crown prince who is credited with being at the head of a Russophile party and who will endeavor to save the nation by submission to Russia when the break comes.

There is doubtless a very great shaking of the thrones and principalities at present and many a sovereign star will fall to the ground before the war is over and the powers of earth shall be shaken. In the midst of that shaking-up it would be a good thing if the people could manage to get some rights for themselves. "When thieves rob thieves honest men are like to get their own again," says the proverb. In this case the people of Europe may be able to snatch some freedom out of the miseries of war. Surely their sacrifices will not have been in vain.

CONVENTION OF CRANKS

It might be worth the while of those in Glendale who have leisure to motor out to Sunland and witness the opening of the Cranks' convention that is to be held there September 2. This is the first convention of this kind ever held. The "cranks" are people of all sorts and conditions. They will be called to order by Dr. Fry of Los Angeles who organized the conclave.

There will be many men of note and original genius in this gathering. They will come from all parts of the land and will have all manner of theories on all manner of subjects. It is stated that scores of parties from Pasadena and from Los Angeles have already arranged to motor out to see the cranks in session. It must not be imagined that this is a hoboes' convention. Many of those who will be present will be men and women of independent means. Their convention will last many days. They will be hospitably received by the Little Landers and by the Sunlanders, who doubtless look on the convention as a means of advertising their colony.

Under the blue vault of heaven with its crescent so pale, and all its bright spangles the cranks will sleep at night. A generous supply of hay has already been prepared for the worshippers of open air and Nature and they will sleep softly and safely. Sunland is an ideal spot and even the most cranky fad of a genuine "crank" would become softened and his spirit would become gentle in the midst of the ideal surroundings of the Little Landers.

The delegates to this unique convention are expected to bring their own food; but should they fail to do so, suggests a hard-hearted resident of the back hills, the hills afford a fair supply of wild iron nuts which will keep them and their teeth in good condition. The floor of the valley is dotted over with millions of boulders washed down from the rocky ravines and scattered as from some gigantic pepper box. The joke will be on the cranks.

It is expected that there will be much illumination cast on many important subjects by the cranks in session. Many of them are men and women of excellent education and outstanding genius. There are cranks on philosophy, cranks on religion, cranks on mining, on mettalurgy, on oil wells. There are men and women of every imaginable religious and philosophical belief under the sun and many who have no belief. Agnostics, materialists, idealists, humanitarians of every shade and hue will be there and while the orthodox are condemning them for their heterodoxy they are looking down with a pitying glance on the maelstrom of creeds and faiths and differences and narrownesses and brotherly hate that they behold in the world from which they have in many instances removed themselves.

The convention will come and pass away; yet one may be sure that in some of the utterances of the men and women who attend will be found wisdom and a sound mind and flashes of wit and scintillations of genius and wise sayings and thoughts that lie too deep for tears and while the world laughs at them they may yet be wiser than the world.

It is certain that the gathering on September 2 will be unique and its originators have shown their profound wisdom in holding it in California and particularly in the recesses of the beautiful hills that smile down over Sunland and Glendale.

Every child should be measured by its own standard, trained to its own duty, and rewardsd by its just praise. It is the effort that deserves praise, not the success; nor is it a question for any student whether he is cleverer than others or duller, but whether he has done the best he could with the gifts he has.—Ruskin.

M. E. INTERMEDIATE SOCIAL

The regular monthly party given to the Intermediate department of the First Methodist-Episcopal church by Mr. Leeds, the superintendent, took place Thursday night. About forty persons were present. Mr. Leeds is a genius in the matter of entertaining. There are four classes in the Intermediate department and the entertainment was suited to each grade. The party took the form of a "Wishing" party. Each person wrote down on his or her own card a wish and also wrote an answer to the wish on some other card. The answers were at times irresistibly funny.

FAREWELL MEETING

The business and social meeting of the Men's Class of the Christian church was held last evening at the home of L. A. Heacock, 518 Lomita. This was the farewell meeting with them of their beloved pastor and teacher, Elder E. E. Francis, and during the evening the following address to him was read, and on motion was adopted as the sentiment of the class toward him:

Bro. Francis:

We meet tonight as teacher and class for the last time on earth. For nearly three years our happy association has continued. This class had its inception in your heart. Its growth was due to your earnest effort and prayers. It is a monument to your faith, courage and love of God and men. Through you we have learned to study and love God's holy word and apply its matchless teachings to our own lives.

And now, as you go far from us to prepare yourself for work in the Mission fields, may the mystic chords of memory bind our hearts more closely together. May the thoughts of these past three years, during which we have rejoiced with you in your joys and wept with you in your deep sorrows, be ever precious in our minds and hearts. And when you go to some far off Mission field, there to throw yourself into the forefront of battle in the Lord's service, our prayers will reach out after you and bear you up to God's throne. In your victories for the Master we will rejoice. In your trials we will sympathize. And at last, when you have fought the good fight and finished your course, may we all meet around the great white throne where we can sing praises to the Lamb throughout the endless ages of eternity. May the dear God forever bless and keep you and the dear little son whom he has given you, is the prayer of YOUR MEN.

Bro. Francis leaves next week for Indianapolis, where he enters the College of Missions for a year's course in Spanish and also in "First Aid" medicine and surgery. Then he will be sent to some Latin-American field. The prayers and good wishes of every member of the Glendale Christian church, of his brother ministers in Glendale and Southern California and of the many friends outside the church he has made in Glendale, follow him to his new work. ONE OF HIS MEN.

PARLIAMENTARY CLASS

Mrs. P. S. McNutt's parliamentary class met in its tenth regular session, at the McNutt ranch, Sierra avenue, Thursday. The specific subject was "Decorum in Debate." Mrs. A. L. Weaver, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. J. R. White and Mrs. William Ramsey illustrated points to be observed on this subject. The ladies brought their lunches with them. This was of special interest to the three little girl visitors to the class. Little Miss Frances White obtained the floor and moved that lunch be served in about half-an-hour. This was seconded by her little sister, Marjorie, who said, "I am very hungry. The lunch is very tempting. I hope everyone present will vote 'yes' on this question." The motion was carried and the class adjourned.

The ladies then proved they are strong on the laws of cooking as well as in those for the conduct of business meetings. Mrs. J. R. White produced a large home-made cake and proceeded to make excellent coffee. Mrs. Bartlett pleased all with a couple of fine apple pies which disappeared rapidly along with the ice cream. Mrs. F. L. Church's large, juicy Concord grapes were enjoyed by all. A huge bouquet of asters was brought by little Geneva Burr. The luncheon was followed by a quiz on parliamentary usage. The ladies will meet next time with Mrs. Ramsey, Fifth and Adams.
